Color — Brand Palette

Seven colours make up the full Simplex-ity palette. Lilac and violet are the primary expressive colours. Lavender wash and soft lilac are used for backgrounds, fills, and supporting surfaces. White canvas is the default page background. Neutral grey handles borders and inactive states. Body text is a near-black that reads as warm rather than flat.

Color — Semantic Tokens

Semantic tokens are named by role, not by raw colour. Components and layouts reference token names so that future colour changes propagate automatically. Never hard-code a hex directly in a component — always reference the token.

Color — Pairings

These are the approved foreground and background combinations. They cover the four most common layout contexts. Avoid using colours outside these pairings without checking contrast ratios first.

Typography

Two typefaces carry the full system. Exo 2 is the display face — geometric, confident, used for all headlines and brand moments. Montserrat is the body face — neutral, readable, used for all UI text, copy, and labels. Both are variable fonts covering the full weight range.

Badges & Tags

Badges communicate status, editorial curation, and product classification. Tags and filters are used for browse navigation and category selection. Both use the brand palette with consistent corner radius (3px for badges — deliberately sharp and editorial).

BADGES — STATUS & EDITORIAL

TAGS / FILTER CHIPS

USAGE RULES

Made the edit — lavender wash on accent violet. Reserved for the editorial curation badge. Only one badge of this type per product card.

New / Limited — dark or violet fill. Used for launch state and scarcity. Do not use "Limited" unless inventory is genuinely constrained.

Creator pick — soft lilac background. Links to a specific creator recommendation, not a generic endorsement.

Cards

Product cards are the primary commerce unit. Three variants cover the full surface range: a standard card for browse grids, an editorially badged card for curated surfaces, and a lavender fill card for featured or highlighted positions.

ANATOMY

Image area — 120px tall. Lavender wash default; soft lilac for editorial variant.

Description — Montserrat 11px secondary. One to two lines. Finish, wear, use case.

Eyebrow / Badge — category label or editorial badge. Not both simultaneously.

Price — Montserrat Bold 13px. No promotional pricing without product approval.

Card name — Exo 2 SemiBold 14px. Product name only, no brand name repeated.

Shadow — shadow-sm (0 2px 8px lilac 10%) for default. None for lavender variant.

Form Inputs

Inputs use a restrained style — light border, generous padding, and a clear focus ring in soft lilac. Error states use a red that is distinct from the brand palette. All inputs follow 8px corner radius.

Brand Voice

Simplex-ity's voice is direct, informed, and calm. It explains without over-promising. It guides without being pushy. It sounds like a trusted friend who knows beauty — not a brand that's trying to sell you something.
